(in Alphabetical Order)

NICK ANNAN

Nick Annan currently serves as the Special Agent in Charge for Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) in Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. Annan has oversight of the HSI Atlanta area of responsibility, which includes 11 offices in the states of Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

In his current position, Mr. Annan manages all of HSI's complex federal law enforcement investigative programs related to national security and smuggling violations, including counter-proliferation, financial crimes, commercial fraud, human trafficking, human smuggling, narcotics smuggling, transnational gangs, cyber-crimes, child pornography and exploitation, and document and benefit fraud. He has oversight of a diverse cadre of federal agents, intelligence analysts, and professional administrative staff. He also oversees a number of HSI-led multiagency tasks forces, which include state, local and federal law enforcement members working together to target cross-border criminal organizations that exploit the legitimate travel, commercial trade and financial systems.

Prior to his selection as Special Agent in Charge, Mr. Annan served in a number of field and headquarters leadership positions. Mr. Annan comes to Atlanta from HSI San Diego, where he served as the Deputy SAC with oversight of over 250 law enforcement officers and personnel. In this position, he had oversight of one the largest ICE investigative offices in the nation, which includes both San Diego and Imperial counties.

Mr. Annan recently served 6 months as the acting Director of the Intellectual Property Rights Coordination Center (IPRCC). The IPRCC stands at the forefront of the U.S. Government's response to global intellectual property (IP) theft, enforcement of its international trade laws, and preventing predatory and unfair trade practices that threaten the global economy. The IPR Center brings together 23 partner agencies, consisting of 19 key federal agencies, Interpol, Europol and the governments of Canada and Mexico in a task-force setting.

Mr. Annan has also served as the Chief of Staff to the director of HSI and provided management oversight at the national level. Additionally, he has held the positions of the Deputy Attaché in Rome, Italy, the Assistant SAC in San Diego and the Deputy Chief of Staff for Investigations.

Mr. Annan began his law enforcement career in 1997 as a Special Agent with the U.S. Customs Service in San Diego, CA. Mr. Annan graduated as a Scholar-Athlete award recipient from the University of Maryland where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in Economics.
Patrick L. Bailey is the director of the Medical Examiner’s Office for DeKalb County. In this position, Mr. Bailey oversees all departmental operations/divisions, including: the Forensic Death Investigation Division, Forensic Pathology Division, which includes the Forensic Laboratory and all personnel.

Mr. Bailey joined DeKalb County in 1996 as a uniform patrolman in the departments Uniform Division Center Precinct. He later transferred Center Precinct’s C.O.P.S./COBRA Unit conducting street level investigations into narcotics activity, prostitution and targeted areas of high crime. Mr. Bailey was again promoted to Detective and served initially as a Robbery Detective. After a year, he was transferred to the Homicide Assaults Unit. Upon completing 4 years of service, Mr. Bailey was recommended and accepted a position in the Chief of Police’s Office as an Internal Affairs Detective.

The Medical Examiners Office increased staffing and Mr. Bailey was recommended and accepted a position as a Forensic Death Investigator. While serving in the Medical Examiners Office, Mr. Bailey has served in the following capacity:
- Forensic Death Investigator
- Forensic Services Manager
- Chief Investigator
- Director

Mr. Bailey has attained certifications by the Peace Officers Standards and Training (P.O.S.T.), the National Incident Management Systems (N.I.M.S.), Undercover Drug Operations

Patrick Bailey attended Troy State University, earning a Bachelor of Science degree in general business/finance.

Department Summary – Medical Examiner’s Department
The medical examiner performs investigations into deaths that are required by law to be reported to the DeKalb County Medical Examiner, and which fall under the jurisdiction of the Georgia Death Investigation Act, O.C.G.A. § 45-16-24. The reporting of death cases as required by this law is done seven days a week, 24 hours a day, weekends and all holidays.

A medical examiner’s inquiry is required on all deaths that come within the purview of the law, and this investigation must start immediately. This inquiry may include, but is not limited to, obtaining a detailed history on the decedent and the circumstances surrounding the event, a scene investigation, a scene reconstruction, an external examination, a limited dissection, an autopsy, a post autopsy investigation including laboratory studies, or any combination thereof. Evidence may be collected at the scene, and the body removed from the location of death to the DeKalb Forensic Science Center/Morgue Facility. Once cause and manner of death is determined, a death certificate is issued.

Assistant Chief Rodney N. Bryant is an Atlanta native, educated in the Atlanta Public School system. He attended M. Agnes Jones Elementary School and Sylvan Hills High School. Immediately after graduating from high school, Assistant Chief Bryant joined the United States Army Reserves where he became a Combat Medic.

Assistant Chief Bryant has 29 years of service with the Atlanta Police Department. He was appointed to the rank of Assistant Chief on December 28, 2016. In 2015, he was appointed as Deputy Chief and was bestowed command of the Community Services Division.

Assistant Chief Bryant has held additional ranks including Sergeant, Lieutenant and Major, amounting to every rank attainable during his tenure with the Department, save for the position of Police Chief. He has been colored with accolades and honors for the significant achievements he has seen within these capacities, which have lent to the overall productivity and growth of the Atlanta Police Department.

A proponent of scholarship and excellence, Assistant Chief Bryant is notably committed to his craftsmanship and continuously pursues opportunities to enhance his aptitude. Assistant Chief Bryant holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice from Georgia State University. He also possesses a Masters of Science in Administration, earned at Central Michigan University.

Assistant Chief Bryant continues to engage in senior/executive leadership development training, lending to his expertise, generally as a Law Enforcement professional and specifically as a leader of a large police agency. His leadership development accomplishments include, but are not limited to the following:
- 2014 - Completed a two-week public safety program and exchange focused on new public safety techniques and technologies.
- 2016 - Atlanta Police Leadership Institute.
- Graduate of the Police Executive Research Forum Senior Management in Policing.
• Event Manager and Commander of Public Safety planning for the impending 2018 College Football Championship Game and 2019 NFL Super Bowl
• Organized by the Georgia International Law Enforcement Exchange, Assistant Chief Bryant along with 16 other senior Georgia public safety officials learned best practices on counter-terrorism measures.

Assistant Chief Bryant enjoys engaging with the community. His favorite part about the job is collaborating with both officers and citizens to solve public safety issues.

Assistant Chief Bryant is the proud father of three daughters and grandfather of one grand-daughter. He is also a member of Elizabeth Baptist Church in Atlanta, P.H.A. Masonic Order and the Greek Fraternal Organization Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc.

DEPUTY CHIEF SCOTT KREHER

Deputy Chief Scott Kreher began his career 24 years ago as a patrol officer in Zone 3. While a student at Georgia State University, he rode with several officers in Zone 3 and realized law enforcement would be his passion and career choice. After the academy, he chose Zone 3 and worked there during the 1996 Olympics. Later, he became a Field Training Officer.

In 1997, he was transferred to the elite Red Dog Unit to combat street-level drug operations. In 1999, he was promoted to the rank of Investigator and assigned to the Major Fraud Unit. There his duties included criminal investigations of mortgage and identity fraud.

After working Major Fraud, he was promoted to the rank of Sergeant in 2002 where he was assigned as a front-line field supervisor in Zone 5. His duties included supervising patrol officers in the downtown district. It was soon after his promotion that he was assigned to the Robbery Unit as a supervisor and was responsible for assigning both pedestrian and commercial robbery cases to investigators to complete thorough and detailed investigations for prosecution.

From 2003 through 2005, the Atlanta Police Department transitioned from centralized to decentralized criminal investigations. This moved him to both Zone 1 and Zone 5 Criminal Investigation Units to supervise investigators within those specific commands. From 2005 through 2007, he worked as a supervisor in the Fugitive Unit. This unit included investigators assigned to the Southeast Regional Fugitive Task Force organized by the United States Marshall Service. The unit was responsible for apprehending dangerous felons wanted by the Atlanta Police Department and other jurisdictions identified by the Task Force. In 2007, he went back to Zone 3 as a field supervisor until he was promoted to Lieutenant in 2009.

As a new Lieutenant, he was assigned to Zone 4 field operations and commanded both the Morning and Day watch units.

Deputy Chief Kreher was transferred to the Vice Unit in 2011. He was tasked with writing the Standard Operating Procedures for the unit along with implementing new technology utilized for undercover work. He also formed a Hotel Council for the downtown district to address human trafficking and web-based prostitution challenges.

In 2013, he was promoted to Captain and assigned as the Zone 4 Assistant Zone Commander. During his command, he worked to improve community relationships and reduce crime until promoted to Major in 2015 and assigned as the Zone 5 Commander. As the Zone 5 Commander, his team finished 2016 as the Crime Reduction Award winners for APD and continued reducing crime in 2017 until his promotion to Deputy Chief in August of 2017.

Deputy Chief Kreher holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Criminal Justice from Georgia State University and a Master of Science Degree in Criminal Justice from the University of Cincinnati. He is a graduate of Northwestern University’s School of Police Staff and Command, The Police Executive Research Forum’s Senior Management Institute for Police and the Atlanta Police Department’s Leadership Institute Tier 4 program. As a current member of the Atlanta Police Department’s Leadership Institute Tier 5 program, he participated in the Georgia International Law Enforcement Exchange program with Georgia State University and spent time in Israel with the Israeli National Police Force for leadership development.
He is also a certified P.O.S.T. instructor and a part-time instructor in Georgia State University’s Criminal Justice department. His goal every day is to treat everyone with dignity and respect and make the lives of all citizens safe.

RAY MOORE

Ray retired from the United States Secret Service after 32 years of dedicated service. Ray’s career with the Secret Service began in 1984 as a Special Agent assigned to the Miami Field Office. Subsequent career assignments included duty in the Baton Rouge Resident Office, the Office of Training (as a Senior Course Instructor), the Presidential Protective Division (during the Clinton Administration for 5 ½ years) and the Dallas Field Office.

In 2002, Ray was promoted to the position of Assistant to the Special Agent in Charge (ATSAIC) of the Chicago Field Office. In 2004, Ray was promoted to the position of Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAIC) of the Dignitary Protective Division, in Washington, DC. In April 2007, Ray was promoted to the position of Special Agent in Charge (SAIC) of the newly created Recruitment Program within the Office of Human Resources and Training.

In May 2007, Ray was selected by the Director of the Secret Service to be in the Senior Executive Service (SES) Candidate Development Program. In January 2009, Ray was reassigned to the Atlanta Field Office as the Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAIC). On July 4, 2010, Ray was promoted to the position of Special Agent in Charge (SAIC) of the Atlanta Field Office and appointed to the Senior Executive Service.

Ray is a native of Atlanta, Georgia (a true Grady baby) and a graduate of West Georgia College, Carrollton, Georgia, where he earned a Bachelor’s degree in Criminal Justice and Post Graduate training in Public Administration. Ray is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, the National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE), the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP), and the Association of Former Agents of the United States Secret Service (AFAUSSS). Ray served as the Board Chairman of the Metropolitan Atlanta Police Association (MetroPol) for calendar year 2013-2014 and he presently sits on the Board of the Georgia International Law Enforcement Exchange (GILEE).

Ray is the Managing Associate of Moore and Associate-Security Consultants, LLC, which provides a diverse array of security services to include corporate due diligence, organization policy and procedure reviews, compliance reviews, background investigations, physical security assessments, emergency preparedness training, and active shooter training. Ray is married to Burnice Freeman Moore and has two daughters, Jessica and Jennifer.

PAUL PURCELL

Paul Purcell is the CEO, lead security analyst, and terrorism and disaster preparedness trainer for InfoQuest, headquartered in Atlanta, and he’s the author of “Disaster Prep 101.” With over 20 years of risk management, BCP / COOP experience, Paul has had the privilege of contributing to such groups as the DeKalb County Office of Homeland Security, Spike TV’s “Surviving Disaster” TV series, and many more. Paul contributed to the 2004 G-8 Summit held at Sea Island, GA, and he’s a volunteer member of the state’s Medical Reserve Corps (MAG-MRC) under the Department of Public Health.

DEPUTY CHIEF ROY LEE SESSION

Roy Lee Session was promoted to Deputy Fire Chief on August 18, 2014. Chief Session began his career with the Clark County Fire Department in 1992 when he was hired as a firefighter. He worked his way through the ranks of firefighter, engineer and Captain, maintaining EMT-I Certification and attending numerous educational classes and seminars to enhance his skills as a first responder. From 2007 until his promotion, he was a Battalion Chief, having direct oversight of ten CCFD Stations. In this role, he served as Incident Commander on many high profile incidents including the world-famous Monte Carlo fire in 2008. Chief Session brings a unique understanding of the needs of the rank and file to the CCFD management team.

Chief Session has a strong commitment to the community he serves. Alongside his responsibilities of keeping the citizens and visitors of Clark County safe, he is the Women’s Cross Country Coach, as well as the Men and Women’s Track and Field Coach at Centennial High School. Chief Session has served as a mentor to hundreds of young men and women by motivating and inspiring youth to further their education, whether it is in the field of Fire Science or another career. He is also the Founder and President of the Public Safety Vegas Flyers Youth Track and Field program. This program serves 100+ underprivileged youth a year, and gives police and firefighters an opportunity to work with young people to develop athletic and life skills.
As a CCFD Deputy Fire Chief, Chief Session serves as the Operations Chief, supervising over 600 career suppression personnel, Airport Operations and the Assistant Fire Chief over the Rural Division. Chief Session also oversees the Training Division. In this role, he has a direct impact on all personnel, whether they are a brand new firefighter or someone progressing through the ranks as he did. His personal values of health and safety help ensure the well-being of the Department’s most important resource, the front line personnel.

When Chief Session is not serving his community, he enjoys spending time with his wife Shonte, children Kionte, Daniell, Royal and Noah, and grandkids Brayden and Taylen.

DAVID E. WARDELL

David has over 40 years of law enforcement, security management, planning, and operations experience. He spent twenty years as an Army Officer in the Military Police Corps, serving in various capacities in units in the United States, Panama, and Europe. After the military, David joined the Atlanta Committee for the Olympic Games (ACOG) as a Venue Security Manager of the largest multiple event venue for the Centennial Olympic Games.

He worked in the contract security industry as a Branch Manager, Business Development Manager, and as a Security Consultant. David served as a Business Unit Security Manager for the Georgia-Pacific Corporation, responsible for Corporate Headquarters and Aviation Security, as well as Business Unit corporate security support, specializing in the areas of risk assessment and mitigation, executive services and protection, special events, and labor relations.

In his current position, among a varied description of responsibilities, David is responsible for the public safety, cleanliness, infrastructure and quality of life concerns of the 220-Block Atlanta Downtown Improvement District’s daily 200,000-population constituency, as well as the convention and tourist visitors (22 million per year). This is accomplished primarily by providing enhanced public safety and hospitality services through the Ambassador Force and off-duty hired police deployment; public space maintenance and cleanliness services through the Clean Team and Public Space Maintenance Team; and assistance with public policy in support of quality of life measures. He coordinates and conducts liaison and public-private partnerships between the eleven (11) jurisdictional law enforcement agencies and emergency services organizations contained within the Downtown Improvement District, as well as the major government entities. David is principally responsible for monitoring crime control measures and security consulting on a comprehensive and inclusive level to the Downtown area, addressing: homeland security, emergency preparedness and response, business continuity, and large special event support and security.

The Clean Team, which serves as the environmental public safety component of the program, exemplifies the “Fixing Broken Windows” concept. His other responsibilities include the revitalization and daily operations, maintenance, improvements, and staffing of Woodruff Park.

TIMOTHY A. WILLIAMS

Director Timothy A. Williams is a seasoned protective services leader. For almost two decades, he served metropolitan Atlanta as Director of the largest most comprehensive health care system in the southeast. His remarkable tenure comprised a uniform division, communications, security services and parking; his leadership was celebrated locally and nationally for best practices among security and public safety organizations.

In 2008 a nationally recognized security and public safety auditing company declared Emory Healthcare Public Safety “is a very professional agency it is comparable and many of its components, such as training, rival and at times are above law enforcement norms…..the Department personnel look, act and respond as a professional public safety agency and should be proud of themselves and their department.”

Mr. Williams is a former Deputy Chief of Police at Clark Atlanta University. He completed GACP new chief school; is a POST certified police officer and trainer in three states; an adjunct criminal justice instructor; and he talks about safety and security across the country.

Mr. Williams serves the community as a member of Atlanta Metropol, the Atlanta Security Council and is a former council advisor to the Fulton County Public Safety Training Center. He is a 2010 Director of the Year top 10 finalist by Campus Safety magazine. Since 2012 he has served as Technical Chair for SkillsUSA Georgia—the state chapter of a national organization committed to developing the country’s next generation work force. He is a former board member for International Association for Healthcare Safety and Security.

The honorable Nathan Deal, Governor of Georgia, appointed Tim to the Georgia Secretary of State Private Detective and Security Agency board. Tim earned a master’s of science from Troy University and attended the Command College at Columbus State University. A licensed minister, he lives in Fayetteville, Georgia.

You must sign the proper credit request forms at the conference in order to receive credit. This is your responsibility!

If you need a certificate for any type of continuing education credits other than the ones listed herein, please email the information to didi.nelson@usdoj.gov.

Certificates:

A Certificate of Training will be emailed to you upon your completion of an online evaluation that will be sent to you within the next two weeks.

Appreciation:

We would like to acknowledge the assistance of the Georgia Association of Chiefs of Police; Georgia POST Council; ASIS of Greater Atlanta; and the Georgia Board of Private Detective and Security Agencies for allowing continuing education credits to be awarded to attendees.

In order for us to provide this training at no charge, we rely upon contributions from agencies and organizations that are willing to cover the costs of the training and the lunch. Those agencies are listed on the back of this program.

We are also grateful for the support of Chief Paul Guerrucci, Director of Public Safety for the Georgia World Congress Police Department and his staff. They worked hard to insure that we had the space and set-ups that we needed to make the event successful.
